

Jasmine Walden

September 2, 1981 - December 10, 2016

Jasmine Denice Walden passed from us Saturday, December 10, 2016 at Memorial Herman Hospital after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage. She is survived by her parents, Jeri and Stan Walden, brother and sister in law Travis and Christina Walden, uncles and aunts Keven and Karen Walden, Mike and Cher Applegate, Vicki and Alan Tillotson, Joni and David Bayne, Jonathan O'Grady; several cousins and nieces and nephews; and many more dear and beloved friends.

Jasmine was a graduate of South Houston High School and earned a certificate in child care and development from San Jacinto College. Children were her passion especially her nieces and nephews Jasmine, Stella, Elijah, and Levi.

Jasmine was a huge sports fan particularly baseball. She could tell you more about the Astros than most sportscasters. She played softball as a child with her best friend Marcie Murray, until injuries and illness prevented her from continuing. She then went on to become the Manager of her high school softball team so she could stay involved in the sport

Jasmine was a lifelong member of Congregation Shaar HaShalom. She became bat mitzvah, was confirmed, and later helped the religious school as a teacher's aid and assistant. She was so proud to be a Jew and her patient and caring demeanor helped others to experience the same joy in Judaism that she felt.

Jasmine was an active member of the Depression and Bipolar Support Alliance (DBSA) and rarely missed a meeting for over 10 years. Her positive, accepting and caring attitude was an integral part of the success and stability of the Clear Lake group. She reached out to help others who were struggling with mental illness and her boundless compassion was inspirational to all who knew her.

Jasmine will live on not only in our hearts, but through the donation of her organs and tissue to enable others to heal and live.

In lieu of flowers please consider donations to either Congregation Shaar HaShalom or DBSAhouston.org
