Roberta Cooperman Stein

With deep love and sorrow, we announce the passing of Roberta Cooperman Stein, who died peacefully on July 25, 2025, in Dallas, Texas, at the age of 85.

Roberta was born on May 3, 1940, in New York to Benjamin and Anica Cooperman. On her first day at City College, she met Allen Stein, who would become her beloved husband. They were married July 29, 1961.

In 1979, Roberta and Allen moved to Dallas where they continued raising their three daughters. Allen passed on June 27, 2021, just shy of their 60th anniversary.

They shared a love of the beach — from Jamaica to Puerto Vallarta — and spent many hours playing spirited games of Scrabble. Roberta was a talented knitter, scrapbooker, and Mah Jongg player, generously sharing her hobbies with others. She proudly embraced her iPad, using it daily for puzzles and to connect with loved ones.

She is survived by her three daughters: Cheryl Goldstein (David), Debra Tawse, and Susan Stein (Doug Baker); her beloved grandchildren: Lauren McDonald (Tom), Ethan Goldstein, Hannah Nussbaum (Adam McKain), Lindsay Nussbaum (Travis Wright), Johanna Baker, Jean Clausen (Joel); and her cherished great-grandchildren: Miles, Reid, and Holden Clausen.

She is also survived by her brothers and sisters-in-law, who were more like sisters, Leslie and Bernice Cooperman and Kenn and Esther Cooperman, and Sandra Taylor, as well as many nieces, nephews, extended family, and friends who held a special place in her heart.

Roberta will be remembered for her happiness, grace, and strength.
